GreenScreen™ RollerScreen

The GreenScreen™ RollerScreen has made stretching roller frames as easy as possible. Simply snap the locking strip into the roller frame channel and tension to completion in minutes. When combined with the ACME Stretcher, screens are made within minutes to precise tension levels with minimal operator training required. The GreenScreen™ RollerScreen uses a mechanical bonding method, providing more resistance to solvent, in comparison to other types. Do you ever feel like you need three hands when stretching a roller frame?

Acme Stretcher

The ACME Stretcher is the answer. This simple, cost effective roller frame stretching device takes the difficulties out of making screens. When used in conjunction with the GreenScreen™ RollerScreen, stretching screens to high tension levels only takes a minute or two. The ACME Stretcher does not require any air or power supply, it's innovative design allows you to easily stretch screens – so they are level when they are done.
